Solons Meet All Night To Study Education Bill

Both Houses Quit Work Until Monday At Brief Sessions

AUSTIN, March 17.—(AP)—Both houses of the legislature held only brief sessions today and quit until Monday.

The house's less-than-one-hour meeting followed an all-night session of the education committee that sent the Gilmer-Alkin school reorganization bill passed by the senate to the house floor with "do-pass" recommendations.

Eighty-seven new bills were introduced in the house this morning and members stood for a moment in silent tribute to the memory of Rep. A. Robin Henderson, who died Tuesday and is to be buried at 3 p. m. today at Groesbeck.

The senate adjourned after setting two senate bills for special hearing.

Among new house bills was one requiring the state comptroller to make quarterly reports to the automatic tax board on the revenue situation of the state.

Another bill, by Rep. Peace Johnson of Austin, would set up a state youth development council to curb juvenile delinquency. A companion measure has been introduced in the senate.

A bill by Rep. O. E. Latimer of San Antonio would prohibit high school fraternities or sororities. A similar proposal was passed by the last legislature and vetoed by the governor.

The senate set for special consideration March 22 a bill by Senator Howard Carney of Atlanta to set up a three-man real estate commission to regulate the real estate business. Special consideration was set for March 23 on a bill by Senator Kyle Wick of Waco to amend the firemen and policemen civil service law.

The senate also voted to go into an executive session at 11:30 a. m. Monday. Senator Gus Strauss of Hallettsville, chairman of the committee on nominations, said the session would be devoted to "consideration of the governor's nomination and such other matters as we see fit to take up."

Education bill opponents, defeated in house committee last night, promised a finish fight on the house floor.

Bill Designed To Reduce Planting Big Cotton Crop

WASHINGTON, March 17.—(AP)—Action to encourage greater cotton planting neared completion in Congress today.

The senate agreed to a conference report on a bill providing that 1949 acreage will not be used in view of an existing cotton surplus.

The bill is designed to discourage cotton farmers from expanding acreage this year as a base for larger future quotas. There is an estimated carry-over of some 5,000,000 bales from the 1948 crop.

The acreage bill passed the house Feb. 2 limited to cotton and counting planting quotas in 1950 in view of an existing cotton surplus.

House hearings are expected to be held later on other acreage considerations for such commodities as corn and soybeans.

House acceptance of the conference agreement was regarded as a foregone conclusion. The bill then goes to the White House.

Governor's Plan For Whitney Dam Power Attacked

WASHINGTON, March 17.—(AP)—Proposals of Gov. Beauford Jester of Texas to allocate power from the Whitney Dam to the Brazos River District drew a sharp reply yesterday from Rep. Poage (D-Tex.) in Washington.

In a letter to Governor Jester, Poage said, "It would be definite refutation of our national policy making public power available to the public through public utilities at the lowest cost possible."

In the letter he made public, Poage said Jester "suggested the federal government turn power from the Whitney Dam over to the Brazos River Conservation and Reclamation District and let the agency sell the power without regard to present preference."

Poage also said Jester suggested letting the district sell the power at higher rates than those fixed by the Federal Power Commission.

"You (Jester) further suggested," the letter continues, "that the anticipated profit be retained by the Brazos District for expenditure free of any federal control."

"This in spite of the fact the federal government is making an investment of more than 40 million dollars in Whitney Dam and that no state money and no Brazos District money is being invested therein."

Poage wrote his letter in reply to statements appearing in Texas newspapers reportedly giving Gov. Jester's plan.

The Whitney Dam is on the Brazos river.

PLENTY OF COMMENT

Corsicanans picked at random for comment on the increasing threat of losing the local health unit were not at all bashful. They were advised they wouldn't be quoted by name—but still no one refused comment or criticized the agency in any manner.

Here are some typical statements:

A cafe operator—"I think that without the health unit we'd be a perfect failure as a community. It is poor management on the part of the commissioners if they permit its abolishment."

A housewife—"It's a good thing; I'm all for it."

An attorney—"It's doing a darn good job, and I think when we get the county hospital there ought to be a place in it for the health unit. Dr. Will Miller is doing a bang up good job."

A musician—"The health unit should be kept up, but it looks like the Commissioners' Court is trying to pitch it into someone else's lap. They act like county funds are coming out of their own pockets."

An agricultural official—"It's a constant reminder of our health needs—a very good thing, especially in its work with schools."

Citizens contacted seemed more impressed with the health unit's work in venereal disease control and its educational efforts in preventing disease.

Senate Approval For Rent Measure Is Anticipated

WASHINGTON, March 17.—(AP)—Chairman Maybank (D-SC) predicted senate banking committee approval today of a 15-month extension of rent controls with provision for boosting some rents 15 per cent over 1947 levels.

A banking subcommittee okayed the bill late yesterday.

An official of the housing expediter's office told reporters the rents on about half the nation's tenant dwellings would be hiked five per cent October 1 under the terms of the measure. Further increases are provided later for a lesser number.

Maybank called a closed-door session of the full banking committee yesterday to study the smaller unit's work. He forecast a favorable vote by nightfall and said he expects to have the bill on the senate calendar tomorrow.

However, senate action probably won't come until next week, and in any event not until the current row over changing the senate rules has been settled.

President Truman had asked for a two-year extension of rent controls beyond March 31, when the present law expires. He also asked for a general tightening up of controls.

The subcommittee measure cuts five extension short and loosens some rent restrictions, but it does tighten some others.

Solons Critical Of Letting Reds Attend U.S. Meet

WASHINGTON, March 17.—(AP)—Critical lawmakers said today that if Soviet delegates are to be admitted to this country for a "world peace conference," Americans should get equal treatment from Russia.

Several times in the past, Moscow has refused to let in congressional committees or individual lawmakers.

But the state department said yesterday that 22 delegates from Russia and other Communist dominated nations will be allowed to attend a peace conference called by the National Council of the Arts, Sciences and Professions, it will be held in New York beginning March 25.

Chairman Wood (D-Ga.) of the house un-American activities committee said his group may look into the matter. Senators Mundt (R-SD) and Ferguson (R-Mich.) were critical of the state department's action.

The department itself said in its statement that the Communist delegates surely will find it impossible to express any view "other than that dictated by the political authorities in Moscow."

And it forecast that "Communists will attempt to use and manipulate" the conference.

Coal Users Now Facing Threat Of Running Short

PITTSBURGH, March 17.—(AP)—Wintry blasts in many areas of the country today built up a potential threat to coal users in the mine shutdown.

The four day old combined memorial and protest work stoppage of about 463,000 hard and soft coal miners started with a huge 70,000,000 ton above-ground supply. The weather was prolonged and the work stopped below freezing.

In this bituminous center, the retail coal dealers reported stocks in coal yards were expected to be depleted unless the work stoppage was prolonged or the weather stayed below freezing.

Poor distribution of bituminous coal in other areas, coalmen said, would affect householders who, with perennial optimism, ran into March with only a ton or two of coal in their bins.

Hoover Commission Sharply Divided In Report On Interior Department

WASHINGTON, March 17.—(AP)—A sharply-divided Hoover Commission today urged major changes in the interior department to tighten efficiency and eliminate "disastrously wasteful conflict."

In a report to congress studded with "dissents," "abstentions," and "further views" by individual members, the 12-man commission proposed a vast expansion of the department to include all "major public works" projects.

If a similar proposal offered in 1924 had been followed then, the government reorganization group declared, "hundreds of millions of dollars would have been saved to the public over these years." Now, it added, "it is a complete necessity."

Three commissioners, headed by Secretary of State Acheson, the bipartisan group's vice chairman, suggested replacing the interior department with a "department of natural resources."

But the majority turned that down and recommended it read in the present department these functions:

1. Flood control and rivers and harbors improvement, now under the Army corps of engineers.
2. Public building construction and community service, now major functions of the Federal Works Agency.

County Hospital Boards Convene Here On Friday

Plans for the county-wide campaign to secure a $1,200,000 memorial hospital for Navarro county will be formulated at a meeting of the county advisory board at the courthouse Friday night. The meeting has been called by Dr. Curley H. Sanders, Keren's county chairman.

Workers in the $250,000 public subscriptions campaign in Corsicana will meet at a luncheon here Friday noon at the Navarro Hotel for reports from the nineteen teams.

Reports being received from members of the teams indicate that the county is well along in the campaign. Prospective donors have given the workers checks for more than $7,000.

Mrs. Ethel Hilliard, proprietor of Twilight Home, 303 West Seventh avenue, where 30-odd aged persons reside, telephoned one of the committees that she had not been solicited for a donation. She subscribed $100.

A complete report on the progress was scheduled at the luncheon Friday noon.

J. M. Dyer is chairman of the campaign for the public subscriptions.

The campaign opened with a kick-off breakfast Monday morning, and the commissioners court called an election Monday for April 12 to decide whether or not bonds of $500,000 will be issued for the building part in the "living memorial" to the Navarro County veterans.

The federal government is to provide $400,000 grant toward the 100-bed hospital.

Theft Of Uranium Being Probed By Mexican Police

MEXICO CITY, March 17.—(AP)—A supposed theft of refined uranium from a U. S. atomic laboratory is being investigated by Mexican secret police.

A month ago a Mexican was arrested with a small cylinder of uranium, police said, but newspapers were asked then not to publish the information.

The uranium was said by the police to have been earmarked for shipment to Panama.

The arrest of the Mexican with the uranium has been kept secret to give U. S. agents time to locate a man who might know something of the theft from the U. S. atomic laboratory.

FORT WORTH, Tex., March 17.—(AP)—Truck parts and engine fragments were strewn for 700 feet along the U. S. 76 highway here Friday after a head-on collision between a six-wheel gasoline trailer truck here today.

The driver, Grady J. Burroughs, 20, of Fort Worth, stepped from the wreckage, unhurt.

Landlord-Tenant Law—Congress Would Relax Rent Control

BY JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON, March 17.—(AP)—This is an ABC on rent control, bringing up to date what's happened. Nothing final has happened. The present law controlling rents ends March 31, unless Congress passes a new one. It hasn't yet. It's pretty sure to.

The only action up to now has been this: The House passed a rent bill. The senate is getting ready to vote on one.

From what's been said and done, these points stand out:

1. Congress seems to think we've reached the point where the states, at least, ought to be free to handle their own rent problems, if they want to.
2. Congress seems to think that a new law should not continue Federal rent controls for more than another 15 months, or until June 30, 1950. (President Truman's aides want controls for another 24 months.)
3. Here are a few high spots in the bill passed by the House, and the different bill being readied in the Senate.
4. If both houses wind up passing different bills, there will be no new law until both agree on a single bill.
5. The House bill...The big point is the "home rule" feature. If it becomes law, it would mean this: Any State, City or County could throw off all federal controls any time it wished even though that State, City or County had no rent controls of its own. In short, it could end rent control for itself.
6. The bill which the Senate is preparing is different. It wouldn't permit dropping of all controls.

Rep. Patman Charges Monopolies Are Seeking Return Of Basing Points

WASHINGTON, March 17.—(AP)—Rep. Patman (D-Tex.) said today that monopolistic interests are trying to bring back the basing point freight rate system which he said violates anti-trust laws.

He told the house that big steel concerns using the system had discriminated against all states except those actually producing steel or which were near large steel producing centers.

Quoting from data obtained by a congressional committee, Patman said production of hot-rolled steel sheets for domestic use increased 10 per cent between 1940 and 1947 but that the entire increase had gone to but eight states.

Under the basing point system, a manufacturer averages out freight costs so that delivered price of his product is the same everywhere, regardless of distance from point of production.

The federal trade commission ordered the cement industry to quit using the system, charging that the way it was being used violated anti-trust laws. The case was taken to the Supreme Court, where the F.T.C. was upheld.

The question arose in industry as a whole whether the ruling applied to all, or just the cement industry.

However, since mid-1948 the cement industry and steel industry have abandoned the basing point system and use the F.O.B. (free on board) plan. In this the buyer pays the freight from the point of shipment. Those at distant points thus pay more for products than those nearby.

"Whenever local business interests have endeavored to establish their own mills to serve their territories, the steel industry has threatened and coerced them into abandoning the projects," Patman said.

He cited specifically a situation in his own state.

Sen. Taft Defends Compromise That Ended Filibuster

WASHINGTON, March 17.—(AP)—Senator Taft (R-Ohio) said today he thinks "important features" of civil rights legislation can be put through the senate under the top-Dixie "compromise" on a debating rule.

They can, he said, passed, Taft said in a statement, "if the majority (Democratic) leader presses" for consideration of them.

Taft came out with his pronouncement while the senate continued debate preliminarily to the already-assured adoption of the compromise—a proposal to let a two-thirds vote of the senate membership (64 when there is a full membership of 96) put off a filibuster. The rule would not apply on any future proposal to change the rules.

The debate pivots around the question whether such a rule would make it easier or harder to get through such things as anti-lynching, anti-tax and other measures on President Truman's civil rights program.

The administration set out to get a lighter anti-filibuster rule to clear the way for such legislation. They were licked in their efforts to get a rule letting two-thirds of the senators voting clamp a gag on debate at any time.

Under present rules, debate can't be limited at all in some situations. Southern foes of anti-lynching laws and the like have taken advantage of that in the past to beat them with a filibuster.

Democratic Leader Lucas of Illinois has bitterly criticized the Republicans for getting together with the Southern Democrats on the proposed compromise.

Lucas told the senate yesterday that the compromise "makes it nearly impossible" to get through civil rights laws.

Senator Wherry (R-Nebr.), a leader in working out the compromise, disputed that. Now Taft has joined.

The new rule is certain of eventual adoption because a majority of the senate is pledged to vote for it. The formal vote probably will come late today.

Potatoes For Use As Stock Feed Are Available

Potatoes for livestock feed purposes are available for Navarro county farmers, Triple-A Secretary Bob Clieque reported Thursday.

The potatoes are supplied through the government's potato support program. They are made available in not less than a carload and delivered at 45¢ per hundred pounds to any railroad siding in the county, Clieque said.

But he must be used only for livestock feed, he warned.

Deadline for making application for a carload or more is March 25. Clieque said several farmers could get together, if necessary, to make a carload or more.

The carload consists of 450 hundred pound sacks, and they are in fairly good condition, the official said.

Atlantic Pact Is Seen As Result Of UN's Failure

BRUSSELS, March 17.—(AP)—A confidant quoted Premier Paul-Henri Spaak today as saying "if the United Nations had functioned normally," the North Atlantic pact would not be necessary.

Spaak explained the projected accord—binding the United States and Canada to the Democracies of western Europe—to the foreign affairs commissions of the Belgian chamber and senate. He promised to issue copies of the text at 3:50 p. m. (9:30 a. m. CST) tomorrow.

Hester Must Get Defense Attorney Named By Court

PHOENIX, Ariz., March 17.—(AP)—Phoenix Attorney Hester said today the court will have to appoint a lawyer "to defend him" on charges of murdering his guardian, Dr. John Lord of TCU.

"I want a fast trial and I want to get it over," said the 18-year-old prisoner, who is being returned to Cleburne in a car by Johnson county Sheriff Houston Walling and Fort Worth City Detective A. C. Howerton.

Hester said he has no money to hire a lawyer and he made it plain he is not relying on members of "his family to retain counsel for him."

Hester is scheduled to be tried for murder in 18th District Court in Cleburne, where District Judge Penn Jackson presides.

The party, which includes Mrs. Zolite Edwards, 35, being returned to Cleburne to face charges of serving her 18-year-old husband and nine children, stayed overnight in Phoenix.

Hester was lodged in the Maricopa county jail. He had breakfast with Mrs. Edwards, Howerton and Walling in a restaurant. The party left Phoenix at 7:30 a. m. Fort Worth time, and Walling hoped to make Pecos before nightfall.

Filibuster Halts Italy's Action On Atlantic Pact

Rome Puts Strong Police Guard On Special Duty

ROME, March 17.—(AP)—Communists delayed Italian adherence to the Atlantic Alliance today by a filibuster in parliament. They also churned up strikes in Milan and Genoa in protest.

Strong police detachments were thrown around government buildings in Rome and the Central Piazza Colonna, where authorities and demonstrators have fought in the past.

Communists and fellow travelers kept up their word battle in the chamber of deputies all night and into today. It already is the longest filibuster on record in Italy. Premier Alcide De Gasperi has plenty of votes to assure adherence of Italy to the accord, once his solid Christian Democratic party has the chance to cast its vote.

The Communist-led chamber of labor spread strikes—"spontaneous" they were called—in the Milan area. On the outskirts of the northern city, police shot into the air to break up fighting.

Factory workers, dockers and seamen struck at Genoa.

The Communist organ O'Unita printed special editions in Rome and Milan.

De Gasperi concluded last night the government's declarations on its proposal that Italy join the U. S., Canada, Britain, France, Belgium, Holland, Norway, Luxembourg and perhaps others in the accord.

Barring unforeseen events, the noisy session is expected to continue until late Friday.

Demands their right to speak as they walked under the chamber procedure—each Communist and extreme left wing member launched into a harangue against the North Atlantic agreement.

De Gasperi was a vote of confidence on the government's proposal to become a member.

At 4 a. m. (CST) today, some 19 hours after the filibuster started, it was still going strong. An election to choose a speaker for the day was held, but no one was elected. The extreme left wing Socialists still remained to speak.

If each averaged the 15 to 20 minutes consumed by those who argued through the night the vote could be drawn out until tomorrow.

Approval by the chamber is foregone since the Christian Democratic party of Premier Alcide De Gasperi has a majority of 305 in the chamber of 670. At a recent caucus the party voted almost unanimously for the Western defense agreement.

After chamber action the matter went to the senate for debate. Outside Montecitorio Palace, the deputies building, strong forces of police were deployed. They rode in jeeps and were armed with machineguns. This was a precaution against any possible Communist demonstration.

The Communist-dominated Rome chamber of labor announced, meanwhile, it had called a one-hour strike today, the first since the North Atlantic agreement.

A two-hour demonstration yesterday at Loco, in Northern Italy, saw several hundred workers on the game, fish and oyster grounds, who fired machine guns into the air and used tear gas.

Nominations Made By Jester Given Group's Approval

AUSTIN, March 17.—(AP)—The committee on governor's nominations yesterday recommended Leonard B. Brown of Kerrville for senate confirmation as chairman of the liquor control board.

Frown would succeed Fred Milner Mendenhall, the first person recommended to serve a term ending Nov. 15, 1953. J. Gordon (Obie) Bristow of Big Spring recommended for senate approval to fill Mendenhall's term as a member to Nov. 15, 1949.

Senator Gus Strauss of Hallettsville, chairman, reported the nominees of Gov. Beauford H. Jester also received favorable commendations:

Dr. A. W. Rogers, Corsicana; Dr. T. C. Terrell, Fort Worth; and Dr. John H. Mitchell, Tyler, to be members of the state board of health to June 12, 1953.

State Catherine Elizabeth, Fort Worth, to fill the unexpired term of Sister Antonia O'Donahue on the board of nurse examiners to April 6, 1949; Laura Cole, Temple, to fill the unexpired term of Mrs. Elwood Mendenhall on the same board to April 9, 1949; and Maurine Bridgwell, San Angelo, to fill the unexpired term of Blanche Thompson to April 9, 1951.

Dr. L. H. Denman, Lufkin, to fill the unexpired term of Dr. F. Connolly, deceased, on the State Board of Medical Examiners to April 18, 1953.

Gene Howe, Amarillo, and V. F. (Doc) Neuhaus, McAllen, to serve on the game, fish and oyster commission to Sept. 1, 1953.

LEGISLATURE

The house education committee in an all-night work apiece sent the three besieged public school reorganization bills to the calendar, recommending passage.

Members were so groggy they could hardly talk after the 10 hour and 10 minute session that apparently broke all Texas legislative records for duration of a committee hearing.

Around 400 of the original 3,000-plus spectators stuck it out until the committee adjourned at 5:40 a. m. The meeting started at 7:30 p. m. yesterday.

Opponents were still stubbornly fighting the senate-approved measures when the last votes were taken just before dawn. They promised to carry their fight to the floor of the house.

This is what the committee did: Voted 17 to 2 in favor of the bill version of Senator Jim Taylor's central education agency bill that would drastically reorganize the state's direction of public schools.

Voted 17 to 2 in favor of the bill by Senator Otis Lock of Lufkin, providing a minimum foundation program of education.

By the same vote, recommended passage of the bill by Senator A. M. Alkin, Jr. of Paris, to finance the program.

Opponents started strong, winning the first preliminary skirmish by an 11 to 9 vote. Then, after Rep. George Nokes of Corsicana succeeded in amending the senate-approved bill in an effort to meet some of the major objections to it, foes of the bill were slapped down 13 to 8 in an effort to send the measure to an unfriendly subcommittee.

The 11 to 9 ballot was what brought on the prolonged session. By that count, the committee decided to consider the three bills separately and it just took all night to hear all of the witnesses and argue the amendments.

Wierd Scene. It deteriorated into as weird a scene as any oldtimer around the capitol could remember.

One spectator, reclining in Senator Alkin's big red chair, slept quietly through most of it after midnight, his face shielded from the glaring lights by a mimeographed copy of one of the bills.

As many as a dozen spectators were snoozing at once. Several committee members were dozing around 5 a. m. and Chairman Rags Files Still, a Waxahachie High School teacher, admitted she was having a little trouble, staying awake.

The committee took a 15 minute recess at 1:45 a. m. and sent out for coffee and sandwiches that did not arrive until 2:30 a. m. Members stopped talking to gulp and chew while the hungry onlookers drooled helplessly.

Matches, cigar and cigaret stubs and ashes, candy wrappers and empty cold drink bottles littered the gorgeous green rug of the senate chamber.

Most of the spectators were school people. Many had come hundreds of miles by car or bus to root for or oppose the bills that have had the legislature in an uproar for more than two months.

They filled all the seats and took up nearly all the standing room. As rewritten by Nokes, the central education agency bill calls for a 21-member, elective state board of education. The senate version had nine members.

Sop To Opponents. This was regarded as a sop to opponents who had argued the nine-member board would not be truly representative. Foes have concerted their attack on the Taylor reorganization bill which would abolish the elective office of state school superintendent.

Nokes' bill also gives no authority to the new central education agency to close or consolidate any independent or common school district. Textbook or bond companies would be forbidden to contribute to the campaign expenses of board of education members.

Witnesses appearing against the three bills in the main offered these arguments:

Arguments Offered. An elective board would be undemocratic in that very few voters would turn out in the elections—just as very few turn out in local school board elections; that special interests would have an opportunity to control the public schools; that the present plan with an appointed board and an elected superintendent works very well; that the economic plan of financing is too complicated; that the Taylor bill would create confusion in administering the schools.

Proponents emphasized these points:

That the entire plan is a sure guarantee for decent salaries for teachers; that it stabilizes financing of the school system and equalizes the cost between districts more able and less able to pay; that it is as democratic as the local system of elective school boards which appoint superintendents; that it would eliminate lack of harmony between the state superintendent and the state board; that it is a progressive plan setting up higher minimum school standards than the schools now have.

Among witnesses appearing for the bills were H. L. Foster of Longview, president of the State Association of School Administrators; Mrs. Cecil Ross, Jefferson county superintendent; Charles M. Rogers, Amarillo superintendent; Terrell W. Ogg of Brazosport; Joe Humphrey of Abilene, president of the State Teachers Association.

Among those opposing the bills were Ghent Sanderford of Austin and Ben G. Oneal of Wichita Falls, both former members of the State Board of Education; L. L. Dinkins of Richmond; Dr. A. F. Edwards of Wichita Falls, dean of Hardin Junior College; Morris Gilbert of Henrietta, Clay county superintendent; Allen Kavanaugh of Wheeler.

Max Baer Pleased With His Career As Movie Actor

By BOB THOMAS.
HOLLYWOOD, March 17.—(AP)—Shake hands with Max Baer the actor—if you don't mind risking loss of your hand.
We find the mammoth ex-champ in his dressing room on the "Love is Big Business" set. He is playing in rummy, but manages to continue the game and still deliver some Noel Coward-like lines.
How does he like the Thesplan art?
"This is the softest racket in the world. I've been hit in the head for 20 years, but I can do it. I shoulda stuck to this all along." Baer had his first fling at emoting in "The Prize Fighter and the Lady" in 1933. He co-starred with Myrna Loy.
"I coulda had a career out here, I guess," he says in his rumbling bass, "but I was a fresh young punk and I thought I could become champion."

knocking out Primo Carnera in the 11th round at Long Island City. A year later, the crown was tipped off his large head by Jim Braddock.
"This acting game is much easier," he says. "Although I guess a lot of actors around here are finding it ain't so rosy these days. You gotta know your stuff or you don't work."
"Me, I'm lucky. I saved my dough. So if I don't get a job in pictures for a while, I can live on my annuities."
"Mother Was a Freshman" (TCF) casts Loretta Young as a college freshman and Van Johnson as an English lit. Professor. Before you say "Oh, no!" let me add that they act their ages (thirtyish) in a wholesome fable about a mother who accompanies her daughter to college. Rudy Vallee adds to the genial fun.

Seeking Funds For Memorial Hospital Here

Nineteen teams are working this week in securing the required public subscriptions for the 100-bed memorial hospital campaign in Navarro county. Public subscriptions aggregating $250,000 are sought, $200,000 of which had been subscribed prior to the final campaign for $50,000 opened this week. The federal government has appropriated $400,000 (non-repayable) and the county has been asked to vote $550,000 bonds to make $1,200,000 available for the project. The commissioners court Monday called an election for April 12 to decide whether or not the $550,000 bonds will be issued.
Reports from the committees will be made at a luncheon Friday noon, while plans for the county-wide campaign will be concluded at a meeting of the county advisory committee Friday night at the courthouse.

Unclothed Wolf Is Cause For Alarm

GLENDAL, Calif., March 17.—(AP)—This is the story of a wolf in no clothing.
Miss Veda Davis, 23-year-old nurse, told police that a youth drove his car along the curb last night, and asked her politely "which way is Montana?"
Then she saw that a crew haircut was all the young man had on. He started climbing out of the car, apparently more interested in getting to Miss Davis than Montana.

Jones Tells Of Struggle Before Vadere Was Shot

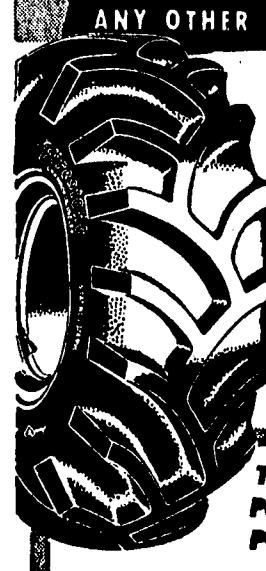

DALLAS, March 17.—(AP)—Robert L. Jones, ex-police chief here, testified today that when George A. Vadere "swung on" him he "knew it was a death struggle."
Jones is on trial here on charges of murder in Vadere's death. Vadere, a private detective, was Jones' son-in-law. The shooting occurred Jan. 7, 1948, in a Dallas jewelry store.
Jones said:
"We wrestled all the way around the room. When he swung on me I knew it was a death struggle, that whoever got loose first would shoot."
The former police chief said, "I walked up and put my hand on his shoulder. I said 'come here and give me that gun. I want to talk to you.'" Jones said.
The defendant, pleading self-defense, added:
"Vadere wheeled and grabbed my right wrist and we wrestled."

HOSPITAL

Questions and Answers

Q. WHY DO WE NEED A NEW HOSPITAL?

A. The old hospital is obsolete. The first unit was built 46 years ago as a private home. The last addition was made in 1924. It has only 45-bed capacity. It is so crowded at times that emergency patients are placed in the halls. It is in a poor location being surrounded on three sides by main line railroads.

Q. WHAT SHOULD BE THE MINIMUM CAPACITY OF A NEW HOSPITAL FOR NAVARRO COUNTY?

A. A recent survey by State and Federal Health Authorities shows that our County is in urgent need of a new hospital of at least 100-bed capacity. This need is based on the county's population and present hospital facilities.

Q. WHAT WILL A MODERN 100-BED HOSPITAL COST?

A. Based on estimates of hospital architects, contractors and State and Federal Health authorities a 100-bed modern hospital in this locality will cost $12,000 per bed including equipment or a total of $1,200,000.

Q. HOW WILL THE COST OF THIS HOSPITAL BE FINANCED?

1. Gifts and contributions by individuals and organizations . . . $250,000.00
2. Federal Grant (Non-repayable) . . . 400,000.00
3. County-wide Bond Issue . . . 550,000.00

TOTAL . . . $1,200,000.00

An intensive drive is now in progress for the $250,000.00 gifts and contributions. Excellent progress is being reported on this drive.

Q. WHAT STRINGS ARE ATTACHED TO THE $400,000.00 FEDERAL AID GRANT?

A. Federal requirements for grant of this type are substantially as follows:

1. That this hospital shall be owned and operated as a non-profit organization.
2. That in case of some unforeseen emergency it should be necessary to sell the hospital to some private or profit organization then the Federal Government would have the right to participate in its pro-rata part of the sale.
3. That equal facilities shall be provided for patients of the hospital regardless of race, color or creed.

Q. WHAT TYPE OF BOND IS TO BE VOTED IN THE $550,000.00 BOND ELECTION?

A. The bond issue will be for 20 years with an equal amount to be paid off each year from a sinking fund to be established. Interest on entire bond issue is to be paid each year. The bonds to bear no more than 3 per cent interest coupons and to be sold to highest bidder after proper advertised notice (It is estimated by responsible bond houses that the net interest cost to the county will not be more than 2½ per cent per year.)

Q. WHAT PROVISION IS TO BE MADE FOR THE MAINTENANCE OF THE HOSPITAL?

A. When taxpayers vote on the $550,000.00 bond issue they will also at the same time vote on a proposition of establishing a maintenance tax of 8c per $100.00 valuation. This 8c maintenance tax will raise approximately $16,000 dollars per year which will be ear-marked and should be ample for the maintenance and operation of this hospital.

Q. HOW MUCH WILL THIS BOND ISSUE AND MAINTENANCE TAX RAISE THE TAX RATE OF NAVARRO COUNTY?

A. Bond on present valuations, not more than 20c per $100.00 valuation per year for 20 years will be required to retire the bond issue. This 20c plus the 8c maintenance tax will make a total of not more than 28c per $100.00 valuation to retire the bonds and maintain the hospital. After the bonds are paid off in 20 years, only the 8c maintenance tax will be required.

EXAMPLE OF COST:

If Citizen John Doe has property which is assessed by the County Tax Assessor for county tax purposes at $2,000 his total increased cost would be $5.60 per year.

Q. WHERE WILL THE NEW HOSPITAL BE BUILT?

A. The location of the new hospital will be on a site to be selected by the County Commissioners Court, with the advice of a County-wide Advisory Committee, and State and Federal Health authorities who are specialists in this field.

Q. WHAT WILL BE DONE WITH THE PRESENT OLD HOSPITAL?

A. It is the plan to either place the present old County Hospital to some other county use, or to dispose of it to the best advantage.

Q. WILL PROVISION BE MADE FOR NEGROES IN THE NEW HOSPITAL?

A. Yes.

This is the first of a series of questions and answers which will be published frequently regarding the new hospital. An attempt will be made to answer in these columns any question about the hospital mailed to the Committee at P. O. Box 91, Corsicana, Texas.

INTELLIGENCE QUOTIENT

Nearly always there is a good argument going on in educational circles about the value of intelligence tests in classifying school students according to their ability to learn. Critics claim, among other things, that the intelligence quotient, or IQ, is not really a measure of ability to learn, but only of what already has been learned.

One of the defenders of the IQ test is Dr. Lewis M. Terman of Stanford University, who has published the findings of a long study of a group of children whose IQ scores put them in the "genius" class. His study, covering about 28 years, followed these extraordinary children to learn how they made out in life. He found they fared better than average, not necessarily in making money but in the accomplishment of worth-while work. Even in the matter of income they did a little better than average, indicating that genius at least is rewarded with its keep, if not with its due.

Dr. Terman suggested, however, that both society and the individuals would reap more benefits from unusually good minds if the children with high IQ scores were given special schooling. This can be done simply by permitting such children to progress through their schooling as rapidly as they can, and he said that, contrary to general opinion, speeded-up schooling for brilliant children does not harm them either physically or socially. His idea invites consideration. We have plenty of use for the abilities of our best minds.

BALANCED BUDGET

The proposed expenditures of the Philippine government for the next fiscal year fall well within the estimated income, according to a report from Manila.

This is despite the fact that the United States is withdrawing support from health and relief services, coast and geodetic surveys, weather service and aviation instruction. Military appropriations are smaller than those for other departments of government, and over one-fourth of the budget is being allotted to education. On the whole, a surplus of a million dollars marks the unusual achievement of the island government.

Apparently the withdrawal of Uncle Sam's protecting arm from its former dependency was properly timed. The Filipinos are demonstrating their ability to stand on their own feet.

ILLINOIS NOTABLES

Three unusual circumstances made the late Mrs. Robert R. Hitt of note. She lived to be 108; in her day she was one of the famous hostesses at Washington, and she was the widow of the Illinois congressman who was chairman of the House Foreign Relations Committee for a longer pe-

ST. PATRICK'S DAY.

St. Patrick was a Roman youth, long centuries ago. He heard some voices whispering: "To Ireland you should go." So he went to study Latin, and he learned to be a priest. Now millions keep his birthday with mass and prayer and feast.

He walked among the people as his Master did before. His heart was filled with pity as he went from door to door. Now with the saints he's gathered under Heaven's triumphal arch, and the living keep his birthday on the seventeenth of March.

Oh, neither fame nor fortune could have won him love like this. The crown that he is wearing off the proud and mighty mis. But while his church is standing at the altars where they pray, The humble and devoted still will keep St. Patrick's Day.

ried than anyone before his time.

Robert R. Hitt was elected to Congress in 1882, and was chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee from 1889 to 1891 and from 1896 to his death in 1904. He took an orthodox party position, having much to do with the annexation of Hawaii, and defending Theodore Roosevelt's often criticized seizure of Panama in 1903.

For the last three years of Hitt's life, foreign affairs were definitely an Illinois preserve. Shelby M. Cullom headed the Senate Foreign Relations Committee from 1901 to 1913, when he was defeated for reelection. These twelve years make Cullom, like Hitt in the House, the record-holder for length of service as head of this Senate committee. Less colorful than many of his successors, he was a sound choice than Lodge and Borah, who took over when the Republicans next controlled the Senate.

These were the days before Col. Robert R. McCormick and his Chicago Tribune became of top importance in Illinois politics. He would not have approved of either Hitt or Cullom.

EASY MONEY

The lure of easy money always seems strong enough to push common sense into the background. The spread of the "Pyramid Club" scheme is the latest general illustration of this fact. The "Pyramid" plan is a get-rich-quick scheme like the old chain letter racket, using personal contacts in place of letter. Postal authorities keep such a sharp watch for chain letters these days that there is no longer enough profit in promoting them to justify the risks. So a new one has been thought up.

Why do people fall for such rackets? A few minutes spent in detached thought—detached from rosy dreams of how the jackpot is going to be spent—will show that they just can't work out except for the few people who originate the chain. Common sense is against it. For those who prefer statistics to common sense, mathematicians offer the fact that a single "pyramid" to operate for thirty days, would have to find for membership six times as many people as there are in the United States. The same cold facts apply to all chain letter and chain membership get-rich-quick schemes.

If it is impossible to win, who gets the money? The answer is that the promoters of the idea, the few who get together and get a chain or a club going reap the profits. The rest are just suckers, and the chain will come to an abrupt end for want of more suckers. This has been shown by the shortness of life of the "Pyramid Clubs" in any given locality.

What's Wrong With 'Yes' Or 'No'?

(AN EDITORIAL)

Another session of the county commissioners court has come and gone, and nothing was done about the future of the Corsicana-Navarro County Health Unit.

Nothing was done by the court, but what is worse, nothing was done by the public.

The court by its past actions, has indicated fully that it is not extremely interested in the Corsicana-Navarro Health Unit or the public it serves, so it is not particularly disappointing that no action was taken.

What is important is that delegations that were supposed to call on the court and discuss the matter didn't show up.

The time has come for the court to do something—and we can see no good reason why what they do shouldn't be done publicly.

It does no good for the Chamber of Commerce to discuss the matter at great lengths, and then allow water to continue pouring under the bridge.

It doesn't matter if Parent-Teacher Associations and leaders in rural schools and communities grow rightfully indignant when it is noted that the doors of the unit are about to close, and then do nothing about it.

The facts might as well be flushed from their hiding places.

One startling one is that the unit practically reached the end of its rope last month. Funds dribbled to slightly more than $200, and the acting director, having fought a good fight, was ready to let it close.

The Navarro Community Foundation stepped in again, one of many steps, and saved it. That was in February, not last year, nor the year before.

The foundation can't keep on like that, and any fair person shouldn't want it to carry a load that the community is more than able to carry itself.

If all of those proponents, all of these friends of the Health Unit are sincere in the discussions, why not fuse the opinions and let the court know?

And there can't be anything indefinite about it. The court meets the first of April. That gives sufficient time for the rural areas and the urban leaders to get together and call upon these five men.

Let's find out how the court stands. Let's find out if they are for or against. Let's find out if they intend to meet their share of appropriations. Let's find out if they want the unit to stay open or shut down.

The public has a right to know if a powerful minority is bigger than a powerful majority. The public, inasmuch as it is the public's money, and doesn't call the courthouse home, has the right to know why its representatives look with disfavor—if they do—upon the project.

Only by meeting with the court can the facts come out. Those friends, those organizations, those people who believe in the unit should begin now to plan their April session.

And if nothing is accomplished at that one, there remains the ones in May and June and July.

If the court does not favor appropriating funds for its share, then the unit is going to die, and other cities of this size which are clamoring for one, are going to get it.

But that is beside the point. The thing is, if it is doomed to die, let's kill it with a clean blade. Let's not choke it to death with apathy and bury it with listlessness.

For once and for all, let's find out the future. And if the future is its abolishment, let's find out why, too.

The April session would be an ideal spot for a great many interesting questions.

And, what is more, a great many interesting answers.

Daily workouts are being held this week at Navarro Junior College for the Bulldog track and field team for the 1949 season, according to Coach Ken Clark.

Fourteen candidates are out centered around the only two returning lettermen from last year's squad, Wade Johnson, half-miler and Pete Willard, 440 man.

Clark reports that this year's squad, while willing to work, and talented in some departments, will have a hard time in equalling the work of last year's crew, which placed among the top three in last year's conference meet in College Station.

The main difficulty is the lack of dash men out this spring. There are only two men out for the 100 yard dash, and the rest are strong on distances of 440 yards or longer, and the field events. Clark was optimistic, however, despite the lack of adequate track facilities at the college.

Pete Willard, one of the returning lettermen, and a mainstay in the quarter-mile, is a doubtful candidate, Clark reported. His injured hand has not healed, and it is not known whether he will get to compete or not.

No meets have been scheduled by the Bulldogs as yet. Clark estimated that it would take three more weeks before his crew is in shape for a practice meet.

The candidates are as follows: Harold Prestige, weight man; Carl Harris, 440; Pete Mash, miler; Charlie Murphy, dash man; Wendell Cook, miler; Wade Johnson, 880; Don Grange, 880; Fred Almandarez, high jump; Gerald Thomas, hurdles and high jump; Clay Davis, high jump and weights; D. L. Orr, 440; Pete Willard, 440; and Bill Davis, low hurdles, broad jump and 100; and Glen Deavers.

OKLAHOMA CITY, March 17.—(P)—A pretty 22-year-old girl told police here yesterday that she and others have been stealing through-out Oklahoma and in the Southwest sending the loot to a Paris, Texas, warehouse.

Oklahoma City police said they have asked Texas officers to look inside the warehouse and see if it is packed with the loot, which includes narcotics.

The girl told her story after police arrested her and a male companion in a hotel room Tuesday. Several punch boards were found in the room. Both the man and the woman are in the city jail. He was charged with the possession of gambling equipment and she is held for investigation.

Jay Silverberg Named Texas State Chairman Of Jewish Defense Appeal

Jay A. Silverberg of Corsicana, prominent state civic leader, has been named Texas State Chairman of the Joint Defense Appeal (JDA).

The JDA is a fund-raising arm of the American Jewish Congress, and the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith, two national agencies devoted to combatting bigotry and promoting democratic principles.

As JDA State Chairman, Silverberg will head the drive by Jewish communal leaders throughout Texas to enlist support for the JDA and help carry on the work of fostering better relations among the various groups comprising American life.

In accepting his new post, Silverberg, who has been identified for many years with Corsicana's major community activities and institutions, predicted Texas would set a "national standard of loyalty to this cause."

He issued an appeal to all Jewish communities throughout the state to share generously in the JDA campaign as "an expression of their desire to strengthen the pillars of democracy and to safeguard traditional American liberties."

"Democracy is indivisible. It must be real for everybody, or it will soon cease to have reality," Silverberg said. "That's a lesson we know that if our neighbors are beginning to realize. The day is passing when bigots can divide Americans by arguing that freedom is the inalienable right of some people but not of others. Today we are deprived of his rights, we will be deprived of our rights. How to expand and strengthen the ties that secure Americans in their common heritage as Americans—that is the basic aim of the JDA appeals."

Long active in the civic affairs of the Southwest, Silverberg is treasurer of the Southwest Jewish Relations Council; president and campaign chairman of the Corsicana Jewish Federation; and a key worker for the United Jewish Appeal, the Jewish Welfare Board and the Council of Jewish Federations and Welfare Funds.

City Softball Loop Mapped Out In Monday Meet

Corsicana softball enthusiasts set up an 8-team city softball league Monday night at the first organizational meeting of the year at the YMCA here, and took steps to even the competition between teams by limiting each of the teams to one top rate pitcher.

About 40 persons attended the meeting, including managers, sponsors and players of teams contemplating entry in the league.

8-Team League

The league this year will be limited to 8 teams, seven of which come from Corsicana and one from Ennis. They are as follows: Texas Power and Light, City Cab, Cream Crest, Dr. Pepper, Oil City, Texas Miller Products, Roney's, and Ennis Southern Pacific.

The move to limit each team to one firststring pitcher was instituted by H. E. Fluker, president of the Corsicana Softball Association, and was passed by vote of all those present. The decision was made in the interest of promoting more spectator interest in the contests via closer competition between the teams.

Other decisions reached at Monday night's session included. To play straight through the season instead of having a split season as has been the practice heretofore; to have an 8-week season in which each city league team will play each other an even number of times; to follow the regular league by the play-off double-elimination invitation tournament, and then the ASA tourney, which will terminate the season.

Begin April 25.

League play will begin about April 25, but Territo Park will be opened for practice games on the first Monday in April, subject to arrangements with Corsicana Softball Association officials.

Play will be held in the regular league on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday nights of each week, with the first game beginning at 7:45.

Renoir Pictures Will Be Shown Here At School

Pierre Auguste Renoir, usually classed with the French Impressionist painters, is one of the artists to be represented in the art prints of 150 masterpieces to be exhibited March 21-25 in the Sam Houston school under the auspices of the PTA.

Proceeds from an advance sale of contributor tickets, now being carried on by classrooms, will go toward the purchase of reproductions of masterpieces for the school. The Sam Houston exhibit is the first of three such displays, with Robert E. Lee and William B. Travis also showing the pictures in consecutive weeks.

"By the Seashore" and "On the Terrace" are two Renoir pictures expected to be shown here. Renoir was an artist greatly impressed with people and the world about him and favored bright, happy scenes. "According to my idea," he once said, "a picture ought to be a lovely thing, joyous and pretty, yes, pretty."

He was fascinated by light and color, and he painted soft, gay landscapes, fruits and flowers, charming women and children. His paintings are warm and full of life.

As a youth, the artist's father apprenticed him to a china painter in his native city of Limoges. The clear, transparent colors used on this china evidently contributed to his fondness for pearly, translucent effects in painting. These qualities critics find especially pleasing in his picture, "By the Seashore."

Renoir is usually classed with French Impressionists such as Manet, Monet and Degas, who were absorbed in experiments in painting light and colors. Instead of mixing colors smoothly to obtain hues, many of the Impressionist artists preferred to apply their paint in strokes of various bright colors, which blended at a distance to give the desired effect. Sometimes Renoir used this method, but often he mixed his colors as he chose, for an attractive result rather than a scientific theory was the thing that mattered.

Pipeline Company And Union Agree On New Contract

DALLAS, March 17.—(AP)—The CIO International Oil Workers Union and the Magnolia Pipeline Company agreed yesterday on a two-year contract.

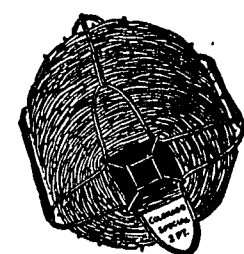

It will be in force until March 1951. Included are pay raises of one to six cents an hour in 18 job classifications. It has an eight-cent-an-hour "cost of living" bonus which will be renegotiated in December.

A company spokesman said the contract hadn't been signed, but all parties were agreed. Union members were expected to ratify it soon. More than 1,100 workers in eight states are involved.

Both company and union officials said it was the first two-year contract between a union and major oil company in this area. E. W. Lawrence, international representative of the union, called the contract and the bargaining which it models in union-management relations.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Never Too Late To Learn

Cappy Miller's young son, Squint, is forever coming up with new ideas. Now they're not all world beaters, but Cappy is usually willing to give them a try.

Seems Squint found a new way to clear brush. They take two tractors, about thirty feet apart, and connect them with a heavy chain weighted down on the ground with old iron. First they both go parallel in one direction, then they go back over the same swath in the opposite direction and up comes the brush—roots and all. Worked fine and saved time.

That's why things go so well at the Miller farm. Cappy is open-minded, tolerant of new ideas and new ways of doing. He doesn't think his way is the only way.

From where I sit, a little tolerance will make things go better for all of us. You respect my views and I'll respect yours—whether it's on farming, politics, or choosing between an ice cream soda or a temperate glass of beer.

Keep Sickroom Needs On Hand For Emergencies

AP Newsfeatures

Every home should have on hand basic sick room needs. Such things as absorbent cotton, adhesive tape, ear syringes, fever thermometers, hot water bottles, ice caps, sick-room disinfectant, rubbing alcohol, sterile bandages and talcum powder are the essentials which are needed from time to time. Your local druggist will cooperate with you by suggesting items which should be on hand for emergencies. If you do not know how to operate a thermometer, ask him to explain it to you. Use this knowledge when you are suspicious that perhaps Junior is running a fever. Then you will be able to relate your findings to the doctor at an early moment.

Jack Sisco Is Named President Of Rotary Club

Jack Sisco, Corsicana Ford dealer and nationally known sports authority, was announced Wednesday as the 1949-50 president of the Rotary Club.

President Curtis A. Keen, whose term expires in July, made the announcement of his selection by the board of directors at the noon luncheon of the organization.

Keen automatically becomes vice president. Sidney Brieux was named treasurer, and King F. Elliott was re-elected secretary.

Sisco becomes a director, and three other new ones were announced. They include Harper Lincoln, Elliott and Tom Bailey.

Highlights of Wednesday's program was the annual appearance of Mrs. Erwin F. Bohmfalk, wife of the pastor of the First Methodist Church, in a book review.

This year she reviewed "Cheaper by the Dozen," a story of the startling father of 12 children. The book was written by Frank B. Gilbreth and his sister, Ernestine Gilbreth Carey.

The volume dealt with the life of the father, an industrial engineer, and his wife, a psychologist and an equally good industrial engineer.

Mrs. Bohmfalk's review touched the humorous spots in the life of this capable couple and the manner in which the 12 children were reared "without any lost motion." "Lost motion" and "waste," according to Mrs. Bohmfalk, were two terms the engineer couldn't tolerate, whether they appeared in bricklaying or shaving method.

She pointed out that so important was time to the engineer, that he learned he could save two seconds by buttoning his vest from bottom to top rather than in the conventional but time-wasting method. He used two brushes for his shaving lather, tried to shave with two razors, but abandoned the latter effort.

Mrs. Bohmfalk was introduced by Dr. Elms Crutchefield. Bob Rutherford was in charge of the program.

Visiting Rotarians included the Rev. Weldon Hamill of Mexico and Earl Gray of Ardmore, Okla.

John David and Ronald Gaven were junior Rotarians present. Other guests included A. L. Smith and W. H. Jones of College Station, Walter S. Kline, Bill Kimball of Dallas, C. S. Edwards of Austin, Everett Hagy of Dallas.

A feature of the program will be musical selections by Betsy and Leslie E. Kelton, III.

All members are urged to be present.

TEAGUE, March 16—(Spd)—The local annual Future Farmer Fat Stock Show and Sale will be held at the city park here, Friday, April 1. Judging begins at 2 p. m. and the sale starts at 8 p. m.

Death Penalty Of William R. Ray Is Declared Valid

Rapist William Ruthes Ray's death penalty for attacking a little Fort Worth girl last April was affirmed by the Court of Criminal Appeals in Austin Wednesday.

County Attorney Charles T. Banister reported he was informed of the court's action by former District Attorney Al Clyde of Tarrant county.

Both officials prosecuted the former soldier in Navarro District court last July, when Ray was convicted on a charge of venue from Tarrant county.

Ray assaulted a 9-year-old girl in a Fort Worth park on April 8, 1948. The Navarro county jury assessed his penalty at death.

The criminal appeals court made the following statement, according to an Associated Press dispatch:

"In view of the penalty assessed and the unusual circumstances under which the case was tried, we have considered every question in this appeal with great care and caution."

"We find nothing which might have in the least prejudiced appellant's case and are of the opinion that no error is reflected in the record."

Judge Tom L. Beauchamp wrote the opinion.

It noted "carelessness" in the drawing of the indictment and "reckless argument of the prosecution" as well as the crowded condition of the court room jammed with spectators, reporters and photographers at the time of the trial.

Navarro County Oil Explorations To Be Made Soon

Oil explorations in south and southwest Navarro county are due during this spring and early summer, according to information available here.

Morris Coats of Longview and Danciger Oil and Refining Company of Fort Worth are reported planning exploration in South Navarro county with location for a 6,000-foot venture three miles west and south of Currie. The test will be the No. 1 Bertha Posey, Q. N. Anderson survey. It is believed that the test will be drilled to the Travis Peak level.

This new location is eight miles east of a Woodbine test Coats and Danciger are starting on the H. L. Wickham land in the Samuel Benton survey on Stanolind acreage out of the firm's big core-drilled block in Navarro and Freestone counties. This Wickham test is southeast of Dawson.

Allen Callaway Sentence Upheld

A three-year prison sentence for Allen B. Callaway, convicted of murder in the fatal shooting of J. D. Dunlap at the old Corsicana Army Airfield in June, 1942, was affirmed by the Court of Criminal Appeals in Austin Wednesday, according to an Associated Press story.

Callaway pleaded innocent by reason of self defense during his trial here last August 18. He and the slain man were guards at the airfield.

PRAYER IS THE GOLDEN KEY WHICH UNLOCKS MAGIC DOOR

Tension is Not a New Social Symptom—Mankind Has Always Needed Spiritual Refreshment—The Model Prayer Teaches All Humanity—Persistence And Faith Bring Triumph

By WILLIAM T. ELLIS and EARL L. DOUGLASS.

We hear a great deal today about the tension of modern life. We are told to be living in an age which is particularly hard on the nervous system. But has it ever been any different? Have not people in every age experienced frustration and tension?

In this week's Sunday school lesson, we hear Jesus inviting his close disciples to go with him into a desert place, that they might rest for a while. They had heard the tragic news of John the Baptist's execution by the monster Herod. They had just returned from a hard missionary journey. They needed rest, refreshment, fellowship, and prayer together.

Not because our age is strikingly different from other ages, but because people in all ages are, many respects alike, we too need times of spiritual refreshment. There are no "resting" periods for us; time off means a season of indulgence and perhaps dissipation. To such people time off means giving the body and the uninhibited will opportunity to let go. These "sow" the flesh; eventually they will reap to the flesh and the harvest will be gathered amid groans and tears. But those who know what life really is realize that our lives are partly physical but mostly spiritual. We have to give attention regularly and diligently to the demands of the spiritual side of our nature, and this means seasons of retirement, prayer, quiet thought, on the counsel of God's word, and worship with other Christians.

It came to pass that after watching Jesus pray on one occasion, his disciples were so impressed by what they saw that they requested Jesus to teach them to pray. Whereupon Jesus gave his friends the model form of prayer which has accounted millions usefully, as they have done through the long centuries.

Jesus taught his disciples first of all to call God "Our Father." This means something. It is the best quality of a human parent. God is no remote, unapproachable "First Cause," but a Father, with a Father's heart of love and a Father's solicitude for His children. Reverence and Forgiving Spirit.

Then He pointed out that God is always to be approached with reverence and worship, hence the ascription, "Hallowed be Thy name." Further, He taught that good praying seeks first the things that pertain to God: "Thy kingdom come, Thy will be done." While there is nothing on earth or in a Christian's life too small to be prayed out, still there must ever underlie and overshadow all true prayer a concern for the things of God. This kingdom-mindedness is an educational influence, a shaping force that enlarges and dignifies the life of all who say, "Our Father."

Most of us are daily concerned about the bread-and-butter question. In the model prayer, Jesus set forth the tremendous truth that our Heavenly Father is not uninterested in the practicalities of His children's life. He bids us pray for material sustenance. Something at first sight strange and incongruous comes next in the model prayer. It is the petition for forgiveness and for the grace to forgive. Jesus saw clearly what we dimly perceive, namely, that unforgiveness is a cancer that eats into the heart of life, eating its way out into every relationship. Furthermore, God makes our own forgiveness conditional upon our willingness to forgive. "Forgive us...as we forgive."

Last of all comes the prayer for deliverance from the power of temptation and evil. Moral qualities are of first concern to the Father, as He considers the welfare and destiny of His children. For the worldly-minded, sin is fun in God's sight. It is a bondage which gradually results in the crushing of life out of the soul. The only person Jesus ever referred to as dead was the prodigal son.

The What and How of Prayer. Here, then, in the model prayer, we learn what we are to pray for. But how are we to pray? Prudent, or lest we ask too much of God? Occasionally? With such a sense of our unworthiness that we are quite sure God will turn His face away from us?

Not at all. We are to ask God to remove mountains. We are to cast prudence aside and to ask God for great things. We are to pray continually, knowing God will never be provoked by our constant intercession. A cheerful fellow will get out of bed at midnight and meet the pleading of a neighbor for a loaf of bread. An earthly father will give the best he has to his child. If we ignorant creatures yield to incessant beseeching and rejoice to give our children the best we have, how much more God.

There is our religion stated for us briefly—how much more God. If we trust, we shall never be brought to shame. If we persist, the abundance of God's treasures will be poured into our hearts.

SEVEN SENTENCE SERMONS.

A good archer is not known by his arrows but by his aim—Proverbs.

He who is convinced that there remains naught for him to do but to enjoy himself, is little more than an animal which walks erect.—Levy.

There are loyal hearts, there are spirits brave. There are souls that are pure and true; Then give to the world the best you have, And the best will come back to you.—Madeline Bridges.

He who runs from God in the morning will scarcely find Him the rest of the day.

For everyone that asketh receiveth; and he that seeketh findeth; and to him that knocketh it shall be opened.—Luke 11:10.

Four things which are not in thy treasury, I lay before thee, Lord, with this petition: My nothingness, my wants, My sins, and my contrition.—Coutney.

I desire no other evidence of Christianity than the Lord's prayer.—Madame de Staël.

Communists Call German Council

BERLIN, March 17.—(AP)—German Communists summoned their "people's council" to Berlin today to rubber stamp a constitution for a Soviet Germany.

A vote on a draft constitution may come as soon as Saturday.

The move is an obvious attempt to hit back at the Western German government being planned by a constituent assembly at Bonn and endorsed by the Western allies.

Tigers Turn In 4-2 Victory Over Ferris Tuesday

The Corsicana Tigers turned in a 4-2 victory over the Ferris high school baseball team in Territo Park here Tuesday afternoon in what turned out to be an early-season pitching duel.

The Tigers, with Walter Bond on the mound, jumped to a 1-0 lead in the second frame when Wayne Ganne singled and scored on three straight errors by the Ferris crew. Harvey Helms' double in the third frame started the Tigers on another scoring spree that saw them pick up three tallies before they cooled down.

Ferris picked up its two runs in the fourth frame, but couldn't scratch from then on out. Bill Watson went the route for the visitors, giving up five hits, three of which came in the big third.

Jerry Caton replaced Walter Bond on the mound for the Tigers after Ferris' fourth-inning scoring, and finished the game for the locals in very creditable fashion.

Both teams were weak on hitting, particularly in the pinches, but lack of suitable baseball weather for hitting practice during the past two weeks is blamed for this deficiency.

The Tigers will return the Ferris game on March 29, going to that town for the contest. Athens high comes here Friday afternoon, March 18, for a contest with the Tigers.
